for Wise Traditions in Food, Farming and the Healing Arts

DONATION FORM

The Weston A. Price Foundation is supported by membership dues and donations. The Foundation does not receive any moneys from the food industry or government agencies. For details on our yearly budgets, see our Funding page. Your donations will help support the following activities:

- Publication of Wise Traditions, our popular quarterly journal
- Maintenance of our popular informative and interactive website.
- Continued compilation of research on raw milk safety and health benefits (see our PowerPoint presentation on raw milk at www.realmilk.com, as well as our Response to the FDA).
- Continued diligence on the dangers of soy infant formula and soy foods in general (including a petition to the FDA to rescind the heart health claim for foods containing soy protein).
- Support of our local chapter system. We provide educational materials without charge to our local chapters as well as funding for participation in local conferences and fairs.
- Office support for the growing volume of calls and inquiries as health-seekers throughout the world discover the important information that we provide.
